

I want to thank everyone for joining the Discord platform, however. We need to change our behavior and use the platform using the following procedure. Team members need to coordinate a time where the team can meet in their small group and go through the study guides. You should start with the first HL questions and go through the entire list. Everyone should have a chance to edit or add content as you work through the study guide. I will be online at least twice a day (morning and afternoon) for a group discussion on the discussion-board. Everyone is welcome to join the group discussion but you should bring the questions you were not able to answer in your team meeting.

So right now your focus should be C18-HL and C19-HL. They are now both posted.
